

After enrolling our son, Quentin, into Cherie Hearts, he has displayed great cognitive, social and emotional development. This is thanks to the motivating environment in Cherie Hearts where the teachers CARE and are committed to the positive development in the children.

Quentin is so fond of his teachers and friends that he looks forward to school everyday. He is always happy to be doing activities with his friends and we hear all about it when he comes home from school.

We appreciate that there is close communication between the school and parents, be it through text or emails. Even when a concern was raised in an email during the weekend, it was addressed promptly. It is with such dedication and efficiency that we know our son is in good hands.

It is also great that the school welcomes the presence of parents on excursions. This, not only cultivates good relations between the teachers and parents, parents are more involved and time spent is in fact enhanced with the kids. From the feedback and advice that we are given, we are able to continue the good practices and education of Cherie Hearts at home.
